

Calgary Phil's Online Education Series

The Calgary Philharmonic continues to provide engaging and dynamic music experiences for schools during the pandemic, but in a different format that meets all health and safety protocols related to COVID-19. Throughout the school year, we're providing specific material tailored for each division in convenient and accessible packages featuring video recordings of different musical performances. These will be available to share with students at any time following the release date.

Elementary

Calgary musical storyteller Liza Scriggins' rendition of Little Red Riding Hood set to Beethoven's String Quartet No. 11 in F Minor, Op. 95. This lively and expressive music comes alive in four movements with the help of some familiar fairytale characters. Release date: 2 November 2020

Elementary + Middle School

Mozart's iconic Eine Kleine Nachtmusik. This piece opens with the unforgettable rocket theme and develops into the memorable serenade in four movements. Release date: 15 October 2020

Pieces are subject to change based on pandemic restrictions. Please visit calgaryphil.com/education for updates.

Free Resources

Looking for free online music education opportunities for your students? Check out the Calgary Phil's fun online series exploring the different sections of the orchestra. An Orchestra Adventure (with Maestro Karl and friends) takes students on a journey through Wondrous Woodwinds, Sensational Strings, Brilliant Brass, and Playful Percussion, with side trips to meet Orchestra musicians and learn about some well-known composers. These four 15-minute webisodes on YouTube are perfect for students and their families, and also include an interactive listening guide: calgaryphil.com/kids-project.
